

Case Study - St Peter's Health Centre, Burnley

This groundbreaking project is the first of its kind in the UK, combining PCT Services with Community Leisure. The ten storey, 20,000m², £29million development opened in its entirety in August 2006 with Diamond Interiors responsible for furnishing the entire building from waiting and breakout areas to the GP's rooms and offices.

The project forms part of the East Lancs LIFT initiative and the imposing new building houses several GP Practices, Dental, Podiatry, School and District Nurse departments and a host of community leisure facilities.

Diamond Interiors were involved in detailed discussions with the client, space planning and design, and consultations with all relevant practices to ensure the successful and efficient delivery and installation of the furniture elements of the project.

"...I have got to know that we can trust you and your team to produce a high quality service..... the furniture is practical, well designed and of good quality..... it has been a pleasure working with everyone at Diamond."
